12:30 -- Second Word, "Today Shalt Thou Be With Me In Paradise", Rev. John Z. Andree; solo, "Crucifixus".

12:55 -- Third Word, "Woman, Behold Thy Son", Rev. Donald H. Spencer; solo, "Were You There?"

Observations

By Bob Walsh

TO THE LEAST OF THEM

It is a frightening realization that communism may be contributing more to the improvement of world living conditions than is democratic America. And this is not because communism is being utilized by those whose objective in life is to help their fellow man. Many of us, of course, suspect just the opposite.

But it is fear of those who have perverted socialism to their selfish and atheistic purposes that serves as the inspiration for our foreign aid. It is not our willingness to make a sacrifice for the benefit of others. In fact many of our leaders oppose this aid because they selfishly argue that it will cost us so much.

Perhaps there is nothing inconsistent about the man who makes a personal sacrifice during Lent but is unwilling to support the expenditure of a few cents of his tax dollar to help the underprivileged in other lands. Even his Lenten denial may have been selfish.

The man who gives up cigarettes during Lent is not making a costly effort. It may require some will-power for him to deny himself the deep draughts and the effect of nicotine, but he is well rewarded. And the rewards are strongly enough imbedded in his consciousness to make the "sacrifice" rather easy.

He knows the period will come to an end. It is not permanent. He will be well compensated with many good smokes when Lent is over. Meanwhile, he is saving money, and he also knows that his health probably is benefiting. A small percentage are so amazed at their physical improvement that they become permanent non-smokers.

This lack of real sacrifice is evident in many other examples, and can be applied to those who stop drinking, give up sweets, stop visiting night spots, or suddenly decide to visit church more often. None of these would we discourage, but in no case would we classify the Lenten "sacrifice" as much of an effort. Always a reward dangles before them.

What applies to so many during Lent also applies to us as a nation, and for the obvious reason that a nation is made up of individuals whose likes and dislikes are reflected in the larger policies. Religion seems to have little meaning for many of us except what we may gain through it for ourselves, and it stops at the exit of the church.

The communists are "helping" other nations for one reason only. They want world power and are playing power politics.

Our foreign aid efforts are intended to counteract communist plans. In fact our most convincing argument for the appropriations is that it will be money well spent if it prevents the spread of Russian power.

You could not sell foreign aid to Americans on any other basis. You could not sell it as a sacrifice we should make to help those in need. You could not sell it as a means to help others to help themselves. You could not sell it as an effort to make others our equals economically.

In fact those who oppose foreign aid are apt to point out that if we make these underfed, sickly, pauperized nations able to feed themselves, make themselves well, and produce goods that will make their living plane the same as ours, we will be hurting our business interests.

They really are saying that we should not help our poor neighbors because if we do we will have them as equals.

There is something lacking in the Christian churches of this nation when they cannot provide enough members in our society with the will to fight on a national scale for such help to the sick and ailing.

There is a void of true Christianity among our leaders and the constituents who choose them when power politics is the only inspiration which will move them to assist the downtrodden.

If you feel much better today because for the past six weeks you have been within the walls of your church more often than is customary; if you are elated because you have denied yourself some little pleasure and now are about to reap the harvest through the money in your pocket and the end of your fast; what have you done to assist others and have you made even a mite of a personal sacrifice in that direction ---and by sacrifice we mean one that is known only to you and has not gained you a glimmer of credit?

And how do you feel about foreign aid? If you favor it for any reason have you done even so little as to pen or type a letter to your senators and congressmen?

As you did it to one of the least of these, you have done it unto me. Is what you have done during Lent been unto Christ . . . or unto yourself?

BUYERS' CORNER

ANTI-FREEZE IS NOT PERMANENT?

For many years the American motorists have debated whether or not they should use temporary anti-freeze in their radiators, putting it in during the fall and dumping it out in the spring. The alternative was to buy what had been sold as permanent anti-freeze, which some garages said could be left in the car the year around. Others suggested you drain it in the spring, but save it for reuse in the fall.

Now you are about to be told that this was not correct. You should spill it out into the waste pit in the spring and install fresh liquid at the end of summer. It is not permanent, the ads and salesmen will tell you.

Such a campaign is predicted for this spring, with many ads scheduled for late April and early May. You will be told it is "all-winter" anti-freeze and not permanent. The ads will explain that it loses its value if left in the radiator, and that the anti-corrosion chemicals lose their strength and actually cause leaks if left in the year around.

The public, of course, will be a bit confused. Which are they to believe? The pitch in the past which encouraged them to spend additional funds for what they thought was a permanent investment, or the present tune which many may suspect as a trick to boost annual sales.

We do know that in the past we have had sincere service station managers tell us that the temporary anti-freeze was just as good. They have said that the permanent solutions were a waste of money because they were not ever-lasting and could harm your radiator.

We also have been told by very good mechanics that some kinds of anti-freeze could be left in the radiator with safety. And we have followed their advice with no harm resulting. We also must admit that we once had a nearly new radiator crack open in the middle of the summer and were told by our serviceman that it was due to the anti-freeze.

The unpleasant experience involved a make that was different from that with which we previously had enjoyed great success. Is there a difference even between the "permanents"? We suspect the public is about to be very confused.

SOLAR WINS SUIT

Solar Electric has settled out of court its litigation against General Electric and will receive $240,000 from G. E., according to a news release put out last week under the heading of Stuart J. Myers, treasurer of the Warren firm, Solar claimed G. E. practiced monopoly in the control of high speed equipment for light bulb production.

Mr. Myers is quoted as saying that much larger damages might have been obtained in court, but it was decided to apply such time and attention to expanding Solar business under the improved conditions that now exist.

BUILDINGS READY

Ads in the Wall Street Journal and the Sunday New York Times tell the nation about six "shell" buildings that are available in Pennsylvania cities. These are such that they can be made ready for occupancy soon after an industry reveals its partitioning needs. All qualify for 100 per cent financing under the Pennsylvania development plan.

One of these plants is in Erie and is described as being situated on an outlet to the St. Lawrence Seaway, 20,160 sq. ft., one story, located in a 210-acre industrial park, on a railroad siding with two loading entrances, and 128 miles from Pittsburgh.

Certainly we can do as well in Warren county?

MILK PRICE CHANGES

The price of milk in Pennsylvania was supposed to make a seasonal decline on April 1, with the exception of the Williamsport area. In our Erie area the price is supposed to be 25 cents on your doorstep, and 24 cents in the store.

Erie district farmers will receive $6.10 a hundredweight and 13.12 cents a quart. This is a drop of .40 cents a hundredweight and one cent a quart. In some areas a drought aid payment of 20 cents a cwt. will be deducted on May 1.

CANCER RESEARCH

Two research projects that will seek an anti-cancer drug are being financed by the federal government. Costing $775,000 the first year, they will be carried out by the laboratories of Merch, Sharp, and Dohm, according to Dr. Max Tishler, president of the research laboratories.

OUT OF FOCUS?

What has happened to the television cameras or the gadget that sends forth the pictures which are caught up by our sets and transferred to our screens. Many sets we have watched recently have had the same trouble. The legs and feet of the actors are out there in the nowhere. If this is trouble in the set, quite a flock of tv receivers suddenly have narrowed their scopes.

ASIDES

END OF WAR

The benefits to be reaped even through the money which would be made available by eliminating war should be enough to move all of us to act positively for peace. Some times the little ones set the example.

Such a one is Costa Rica. Though this little nation is surrounded by neighbors who have warlike reputations and are well armed, it is about to disband its army and to rid itself of war weapons and the expense of buying them. It will have a police department to maintain order and that is all.

Now Russia announces it is through making nuclear tests. The gimmick may be that it says it will resume if others do not also desist. But it has taken the step, and certainly the opportunity to call the Soviet bluff is at hand.

We are a step away from "clean" explosives that can be used for major construction work and for small weapons in local wars. It will require courage to continue such tests in the face of Russia's propaganda move.

Until a termination of testing can be proved, there is no end. However, this offers a chance for us to say, "prove it". Which means that all nations, and preferably the United Nations, would station sounding devices in every country. We never seem quite ready with the necessary answer to counteract Soviet propaganda.

DEATH BY FALL-OUT

Over five million people probably will die this year because of the fall-out from nuclear tests. This is the startling possibility revealed by leading scientists.

This is not refuting those who have attempted to calm our fears by stating that the current fall-out will do no more than shorten man's life span by two days. It agrees with it. An average of two days off every man's life-span means that five million people will die of such troubles as bone cancer who otherwise would have lived another fifteen years.

This is a retarding and back-sliding result in a world that up to now has been gradually increasing man's life-span.

War is killing more people a year right now through preparations than it has in the past during the hottest of the major war years.

THE SHERIFF ACCOUNT

In scanning our recent issues we fail to find a report of the Warren county sheriff office expense account results, an oversight which we now will correct.

The county commissioners last year made an effort to obtain rulings on the methods and amounts that should obtain in compensating various county officials. During this period the expense account of the sheriff and his assistant for county detective work was held up until a decision was reached.

This now has been paid, and amounts to $1,414.45. It is in payment for 1957 charges for investigations.

Meanwhile, a definite arrangement has been worked out, and Sheriff L. B. Linder as chief of county detectives and Donnell Allen, Jr. as county detective will receive $1,500 a year each.

This will include meals and lodgings for all work within a sixty-mile range of Warren borough. In addition they will be compensated for meals and lodgings for work done beyond that point. Car mileage and gasoline are not included because the country provides cars and has its own gasoline tank.

BOND SALES UP

Warren county residents apparently sought refuge for their funds in sound government bonds during our cold February. They bought $86,950 worth, as compared with $70,762 a year ago. The increase was state-wide, $37 million to $31 million.

SKIN RETURNS

Warren county trappers collected $69 in bounties this February. They turned in four grey and twelve red foxes, and a horned owl. The state paid out $9,368 in bounties during this period, running the fiscal year total to $88,444.

NEW BUSINESS

Pennsylvania has 33,675 new jobs for its workers as a result of industrial expansion during 1957. New industrial projects totaled 489, up from the 448 new ones in 1956. The new job total also exceeded that of 1956 which was 28,571.

Of the new projects, 393 were new plants, thirty more than the figure for 1956 when 363 new plants were added. There were 198 plants which expanded their existing facilities.

ANOTHER REPORT

If you received social security benefits for even one month last year, and if you earned over $1200, you should make a report by April 15. This applies only to those under 72 years. You can earn $1200 a year, but if you exceed that you lose generally one month of benefit for each $80 or fraction of $80 by which you exceed the limit.

TO SELL YOU

Soft-soaping the public into using the right suds and related products cost Proctor and Gamble $72,962, 855 last year for television advertising. This makes them the leader in tv pitching by a wide margin, their closest competitor being Colgate-Palmolive which spent $27,114,793.

The top car advertiser on tv was Chrysler which spent about $17-1/2 million, and was ranked seventh. The advertiser one hundred places from the top of the list spent nearly two million on tv alone. This was the Florida Citrus Com.

"Statesmen's Series"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the "Statesmen's Series" of columns being written by distinguished personages in the government, national affairs, business and the military for Thomas L. Stokes, who is seriously ill. In contributing this column, Mr. Herter wrote: "Tom Stokes writes a column that I like to read even when I don't agree with him. I join with millions of Americans in wishing him a speedy recovery.")

By Christian A. Herter
U. S. Under Secretary of State

WASHINGTON. -- The Mutual Security Program of the United States is arousing more interest this year than in the decade of its existence.

The program is strongly supported by the President of the United States, the Secretary of State and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and it is supported just as strongly by the previous President of the United States and his Secretary of State, and by the previous chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Recently, a Conference on Foreign Aspects of U.S. National Security was held in Washington. More than 1,200 leaders in agriculture, business, labor, education, the church and civic organizations met for a discussion of the Mutual Security Program. In spite of the bipartisan support which the program has attracted, it is still referred to by a vocal minority as "Operation Rathole."

Why this effort to becloud the issue? What about the money we have spent? Where have the billions gone? What have we gotten for our hard-earned tax dollars?

Here are the facts as I see them. Draw your own conclusions.

Since World War II, the United States has spent about $60 billion in various forms of foreign aid. About $20 billion of this has been in the form of loans. We have every reason to believe that this $20 billion will be repaid.

What have we gotten for the $40 billion we have "given away" in foreign aid?

Our greatest accomplishment has been the part such aid has played in the recovery of Europe. I cannot believe that anyone will deny that the $13 billion we spend under the Marshall Plan was money well invested.

We helped save Greece and Turkey from chaos and probably from Communism. We helped the countries of Western Europe not only to get back on their feet but to achieve levels of production far beyond their pre-war levels. Thus, the expansion of communism in Europe was brought to a standstill. Not one foot of territory in Western Europe has been won by communism since our program of foreign aid was started.

Well, what have we done with the other $27 billion of taxpayers' money that has been handed out around the world?

We have put $13 billion of it into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. NATO is composed of the United States, Canada and 13 nations of Europe. It is the most powerful peacetime alliance in the history of the world. We have spent $7 billion to support the military strength essential to the free world in Korea and Taiwan (Free China) and other nations on the periphery of the Sino-Soviet bloc.

While we were contributing this $20 billion to the defensive strength of the free world, our free world partners have spent $122 billion to erect this intercontinental shield.

We now have $33 billion of the $40 billion accounted for. What about the other $7 billion?

This money has been spent to help the people of the less-developed nations, hundreds of millions of them, who have lived with disease and despair since the dawn of man.

We have spent this $7 billion to help these people to higher levels of health, sanitation and education. Twenty of the nations that we have been working with have been born since World War II.

Intense nationalism is the dominant characteristic of these more than 700 million people. We respect their love of their newly-won freedom. We respect their yearning for a better life. We respect their fight for a voice in the affairs of men.

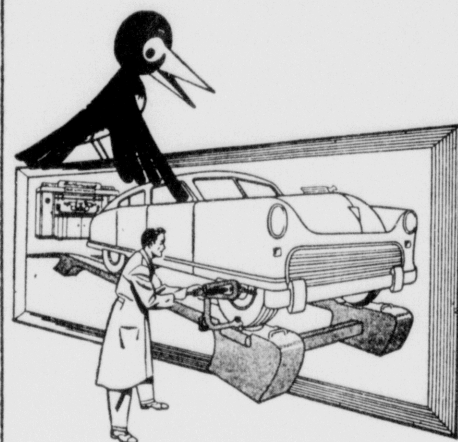

Russia is now attempting to weaken the influence of the United States among the less-developed nations by stepping up its economic offensive in carefully selected critical areas of the world. Khrushchev calls it a "war" in the "peaceful field of trade."

This is a "war" which we have every intention of winning. We accept Russia's challenge, in a field in which we have had considerable experience, with the realization that the paths which some of these nations will follow may well be determined by the way in which we meet the challenge.

This is HOW we spent the $40 billion. The next question is WHERE we have spent it.

About 80 cents of every dollar of it was spent right here in the United States. Our purchases under the Mutual Security Program made jobs for 600,000 Americans in factories

In Brief

YOUR RIVER has quietly climbed to eight feet in the past week, and without the help of rain. Steady precipitation in the same period would have resulted in flood level.

This morning it had started to recede. However, we now are moving into the critical period of potentially heavy rains. The level of our river when such rains start is important. As it stands today, three days of widespread rain, raising the river 2-1/2 feet every twenty-four hours, could give us fifteen feet.

Most people who know the river and have some inkling of the weather picture are optimistic and believe we may slip by this spring without anything worse than a few wet feet . . . and maybe not that.

POLICE APPREHEND TRIO. Warren Borough police officers early Wednesday morning apprehended three Bradford men wanted for a series of burglaries.

A tip from Union City at 2:30 a. m. that a filling station had been entered there alerted police to set up a road block at the edge of town. The trio spotted the barricade about 3:30, turned the lights off on the car and gave authorities a chase through west side back streets before captured.

Taken were Regis Royer, 18, the driver who faces a misdemeanor charge for turning out his lights, Robert E. Burkett, 22, and William Himes, 17.

The three are also believed to be involved in the break-in at the Union Service Station, 1601 Pennsylvania ave., W., Warren, early Tuesday morning.

Gordon Foley, county detective from Smethport, and state troopers William Wooditch and Charles Shambelan, of Kane, removed the three to Kane Wednesday afternoon for questioning in regard to a long list of "entries" of stores and gas stations in the Bradford and Smethport areas.

A MAGAZINE SALESMAN, Paul Walczak, Buffalo, N. Y., was fined $10 and costs Wednesday after being picked up by borough police for violating the Green River Ordinance.

THREE ONE-CAR MISHAPS were investigated by State Police Saturday, the first occurring at 3 a. m. when William Grove, 418 Laurel st., lost control of his car two miles north of Warren on Route 62. The driver claimed he fell asleep. He suffered minor injuries along with a passenger, Cora Briggs, R. D. 2, Warren. Damage was between seven and eight hundred dollars.

Ken Strang, Pittsburgh, did $1,000 damage to his vehicle six miles south of Warren on Route 62 at 8 p. m. when he failed to negotiate a curve.

Later in the evening just east of Warren on Route 6 Jackie Ruhlman, Youngsville, was blinded by lights from an oncoming car and ran off the road into the guard rails. She escaped injury, but $400 damage was estimated.

STATE POLICE apprehended an area man at about 4 p. m. Sunday while the individual was removing tires from cars at the Mid-Town Motors garage in North Warren. He will be charged with tampering with a motor vehicle.

Mid-town, incidentally, has a burglar alarm system.

HEAD-ON. At 7:30 o'clock last Friday evening Ernest Stewart, Jr., Hemlock st., Warren, approached the crest of a hill on the Lander-Chandlers Valley rd. and started a left turn into the path of an approaching vehicle operated by Gerald Stanko, R. D. 2, Warren, causing a head-on collision.

Ruth Pratt, of 1403 Pennsylvania ave., W., Warren, a passenger in the Stewart auto, suffered a bruised leg. Damage was $400.

THIRTY DELEGATES of Jehovah's Witnesses of the Warren congregation attended the semi-annual assembly at Sharon Sunday afternoon where Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., supervising district minister, was the principal speaker.

ATTENTION PARENTS. A discussion concerning selection of subjects for the next school year will be held for interested parents of eighth and ninth grade students at Beaty auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, April 10. The session is of importance as many of the courses chosen now form the basis for the remaining years of education for these students.

ADDING NEW LINE. Dan Dodge, owner of Dan's Chevrolet, has purchased the Willy's agency franchise from John O. Hanna, but will continue all his sales from the present location on Pennsylvania ave., E., Warren.

MID-MAY is the date set for starting the actual construction work on the slope protection project to safeguard the state highway running along the Allegheny River at Pleasant twp.

Bid proposals on the cooperative Highway-Forests and Waters project opposite the Warren Airport will be opened in the office of the Secretary of Forests and Waters at 2 p. m. Friday, April 11. This is a month earlier than expected due to work being expedited as a part of Governor Leader's job development program.

The project will consist of fill and riprap slope protection along the left bank of the river to repair and prevent erosion of the bank along and underneath the highway.

Principal items involved in the bid invitations to contractors include 20,000 cubic yards of fill, 13,000 square yards of dumped riprap with gravel filter blanket, and 9,000 cubic yards of common excavation in addition to pipe drains and headwalls.

Completion date is marked for September 1.

UNOFFICIAL COUNT of registered voters in Warren County as of the April 1 deadline was 12,252 Republicans, 5,871 Democrats, 310 non-partisans, 121 Prohibitionists, and 2 Socialists.

SENTENCED. Two men were fined $100 each, told to pay costs and given three and four day jail sentences for driving during license suspension when they appeared in Quarter Sessions court in Warren Friday. They were Donald C. Beard-sley and Metro Fedorchuck.

On a vehicle avoiding arrest charge, Vernon Carlson received three days and was fined $100 and costs. Thomas D. Ressler, for permitting a violation, was fined $25 and costs.

ON AIRMAIL MAP. A new messenger service to Bradford Airport commenced last Monday and will give Warren more adequate airmail service. Until now the Warren post office has been dispatching its airmail via truck to Pittsburgh for transfer to Allegheny Airport, but the long haul made this unfeasible.

The messenger now leaves Warren at 6:50 p. m. each weekday (there is no Sunday service) and connects with four flights. Airmail deposited in the post office by 6:30 should be delivered the next day in most U. S. cities where direct air service is available.

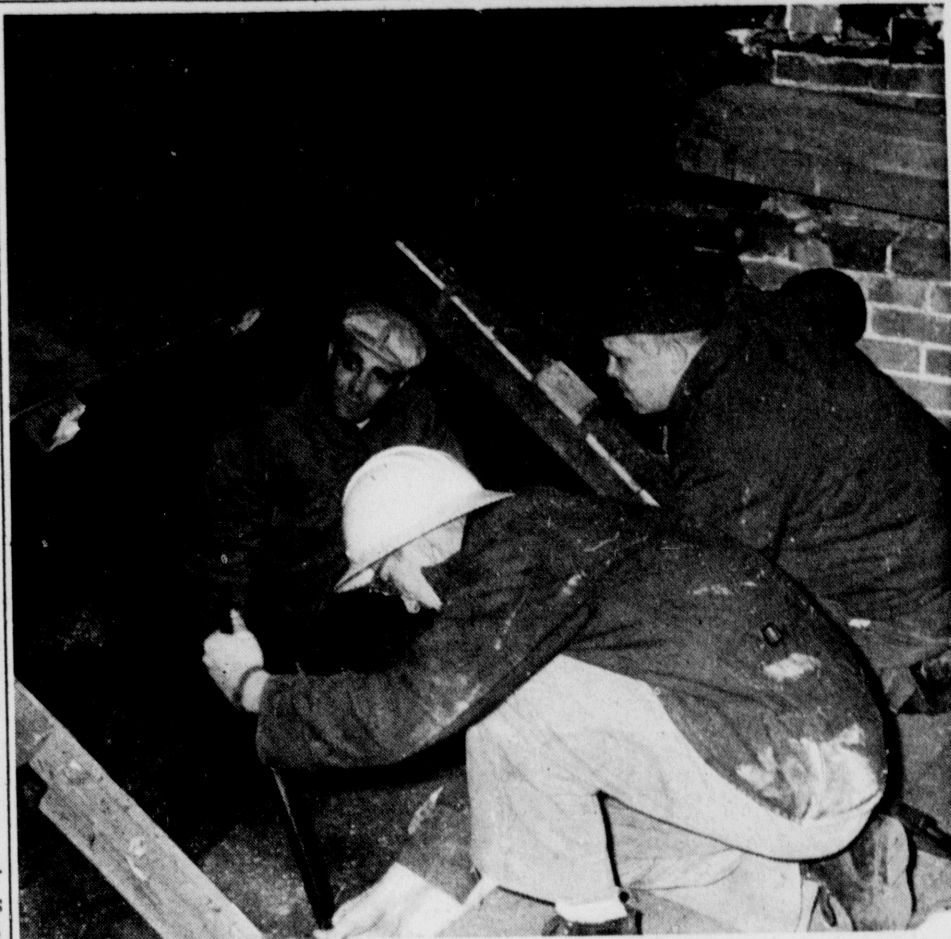

UNITED TO BENEFIT. The United Refining Co. of Warren is one of several companies that will benefit from a crude oil import quota granted under the federal government's Voluntary Oil Import Program.

Application for the quota, which is for 3,000 barrels per day starting July 1, had been filed last October and a public hearing was held in Washington on February 14.

Although the Program is based on strictly voluntary compliance on the part of importers in the interests of national security, United Refining Company has pledged its unqualified support of government efforts to restrict the level of imports by voluntary cooperation. For a time it had been rumored that mandatory controls might be imposed, either by Act of Congress or Presidential Order since certain companies have thus far refused to cooperated with the program. However, last week's announcement by President Eisenhower indicated that mandatory controls would not yet be resorted to and the voluntary basis will be continued, at least for another three months.

The necessity for control over the level of oil imports arises out of the fact that while oil production in the major producing states in this country is limited each month by state authorities to the estimated demand, oil produced in the Middle East or Venezuela at much lower cost has been imported in the past by the major oil companies without any limitation and has tended recently to displace domestic supplies of crude.

In its application for a quota, the United Refining Company had contended that it was at a severe competitive disadvantage since wholesale prices in the area in which it markets are determined largely by the costs of refining petroleum products from foreign crude which is much cheaper than the domestic crude previously available to the refinery. The company further stated that if a quota was granted it would be used to meet increased refinery requirements and would not displace domestic crude oil now being purchased by the company. Heretofore more than half of the crude processed by major oil companies on the East Coast has been of foreign origin and the products therefrom are transported by pipe line into United's marketing territory. Yesterday's announcement will have the effect of reducing import quotas for the major oil companies and permitting independent refiners such as United to share in the benefits of lower cost raw materials.

From the files of the American Cancer Society:

Yes! I had cancer

"Many people think cancer is incurable. They're wrong and I can prove it! So can 800,000 other Americans like me.

"On a gray morning in November, 1942, a specialist confirmed the diagnosis of cancer made by my family doctor. What he had to say reassured me.

"He explained that, thanks to my habit of having yearly check-ups, my doctor had caught the cancer in its early stage. It was localized and it could be completely removed by surgery. So, here I am as hale and hearty as if I'd never had cancer!"

That was 15 years ago, when only 1 out of 4 persons with cancer was being cured. Today, thanks to improved methods of treatment, and earlier diagnosis, 1 person in 3 is being saved.

And with present knowledge, it can be 1 in 2, if everyone observes two simple precautions: Have a health checkup annually. Keep alert for cancer's seven danger signals.

Progress in the American Cancer Society's fight against cancer depends on the dollars donated for its broad, nation-wide program of research, education and service to the stricken.

You can't
CANCER
this way

FEAR AND DELAY are two of cancer's most potent allies. Too many Americans needlessly lose their lives to cancer because they put off going to their doctors.

Many cancers are curable if treated in time. Even 15 years ago, medical science saved 1 out of 4 cancer patients. Today, it's saving 1 in 3. The odds would be even better if people would have a health checkup annually and be alert to cancer's danger signals:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Change in a wart or mole.

If your signal lasts more than two weeks, go to your doctor to learn if it means cancer.

Having a health checkup every year is the smart thing to do.

And it's equally smart to send a check to "Cancer," c/o your local post office to help in the continuing fight against this merciless killer.

Are We Losing Our Latin American Friends?

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON -- "You have taken us for granted so long, but now that time is quickly running out."

These are the words of a distinguished Latin-American diplomat, a friend and defender of the United States. It is what some Latins have been saying for many years. But in the shadow of a threatening economic crisis the oldest friends of the colossus of the North are asking embarrassing questions.

Last week President Eisenhower called for a further 15 percent reduction on the voluntary import quota on foreign oil. This means a drop in the revenues of Venezuela where a struggle is on to restore democratic governing following the overthrow of a corrupt dictatorship. It underscores the politics of oil, one of the deep sources of discontent.

Shortly the United States Tariff Commission will decide whether tariffs should be raised on lead and zinc. The commission will in all probability recommend an increase, and this will have more explosive repercussions than the new oil quota.

The mineral countries, Chile, Peru, Bolivia and Mexico, have been suffering from the drop in commodity prices. Putting up the tariff fence to keep out their minerals would produce a shock wave of anger throughout Latin America. Yet with miners out of work in the United States, this is what the tariff commission is likely to do, and the pressures on the White House are such that President Eisenhower will feel he must go along with this recommendation.

"Thousands and thousands of families in Mexico, Peru and Bolivia are dependent on the normal production and exportation of lead and zinc," Bolivian Ambassador Victor Andrade said in a recent speech.

"Now we are faced with the threat that a tariff may make impossible that most of those mines to be able to continue operating. I cannot but sincerely be alarmed not only by the damaging impact that such a situation will bring to our economies but also by the strange feeling of distrust that may grow in large communities of our Americas, a feeling that will undoubtedly be utilized by the enemies of freedom and democracy."

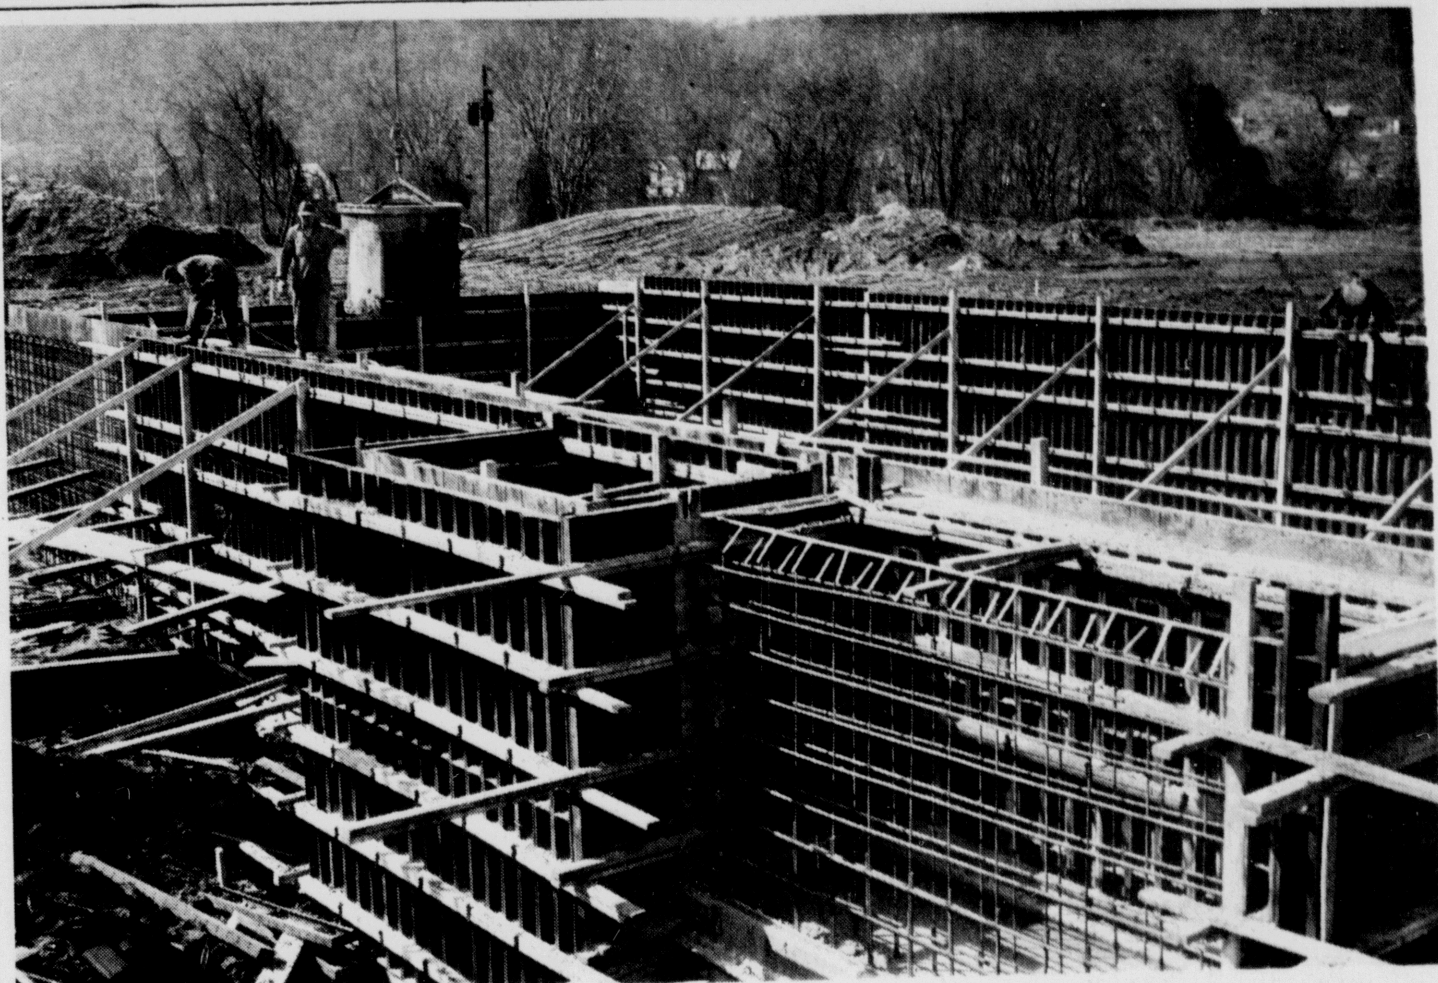

In countries where coffee makes up more than 60 percent of the dollar exports -- Brazil, Colombia, El Salvador, Guatemala -- the swift decline in coffee prices is bringing trouble. There is virtually no market for coffee futures and governments are trying to hold back big surpluses.

The effect of the American recession -- along with a perhaps inevitable decline in the world boom -- is multiplied many times over south of the border. Old grievances and complaints -- "Why do you give all your aid to countries in Asia and Europe and ignore us?" -- have a new urgency.

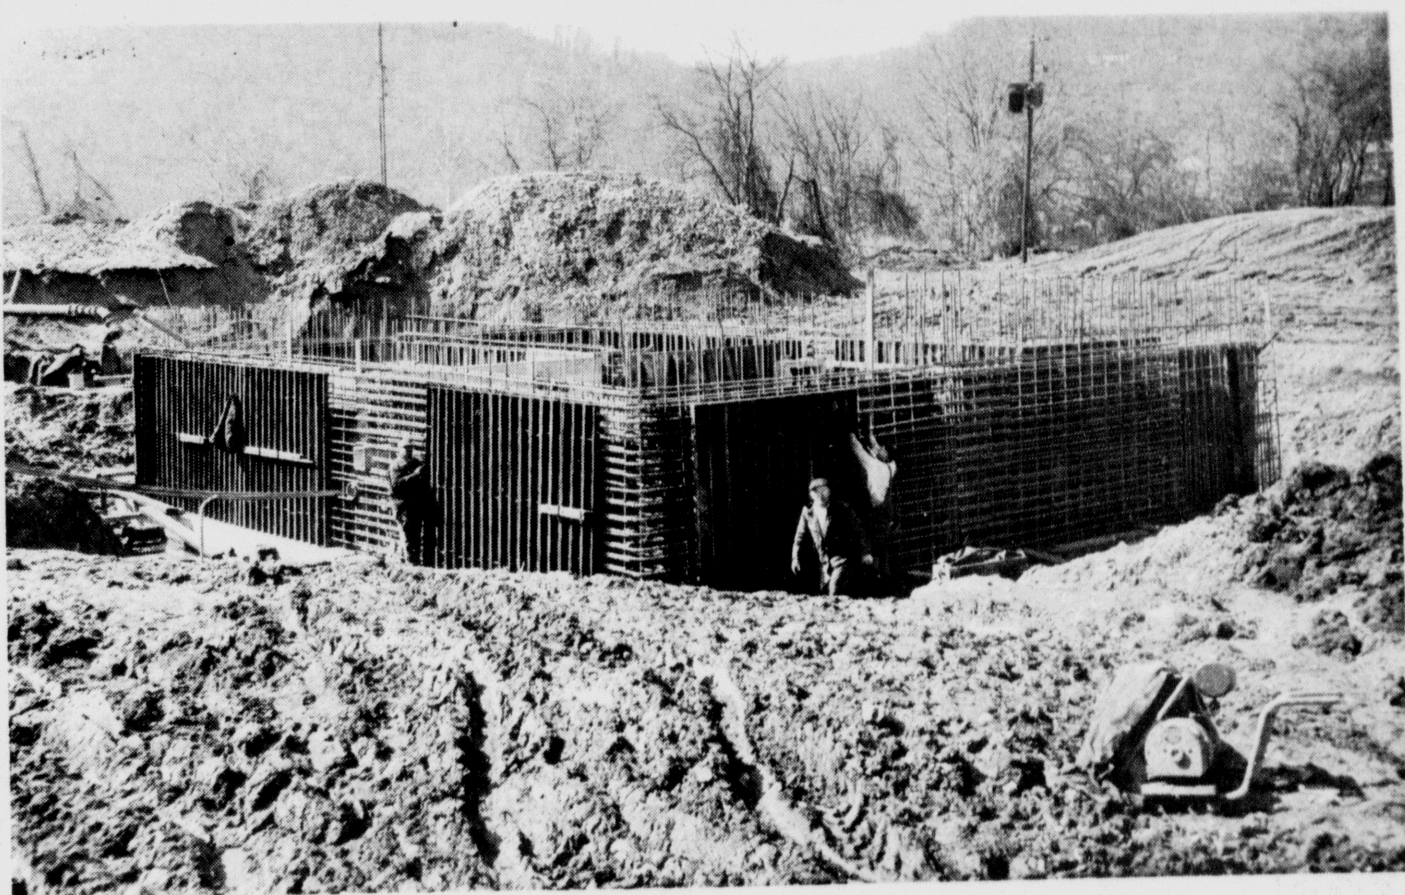

One of the most ancient concerns oil. The two largest countries, Brazil and Argentina, would like to develop their own oil resources without the participation of the big United States companies. They want help through loans from Washington to develop reserves and refineries. Both Argentina and Brazil last year paid out $270,000,000 in precious dollars to import petroleum products. This was 20 percent of Brazil's total imports, 30 percent of Argentina's.

But Washington's policy is to say no to government loans for purposes for which private capital from the United States is available. And the big North American oil companies have been eager to go into Brazil and the Argentine.

These companies have a $3 billion investment in Venezuela. More recently Bolivia, after holding out, granted concessions to the big American firms. So, the oil spokesmen ask, why not Brazil and Argentina, too, on a partnership basis?

Pride is at stake here. The Russians are said to have offered Brazil oil-drilling equipment as part of a trade deal. That is the kind of bait which could be very tempting as the old ties with the North are threatened by an economic crisis.

Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is going on a good will tour to Latin America. Good will is nice. But as Lorelei Lee put it in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "A diamond bracelet lasts longer than a kiss on the hand." A program of action both in North and South America, looking to remedies for these economic troubles, will have to go along with the good will.

ENTERTAIN PRESS. The Warren County Commissioners and the Rowland's entertained members of the press and radio at dinner Tuesday and conducted an impressive tour of the buildings and grounds.

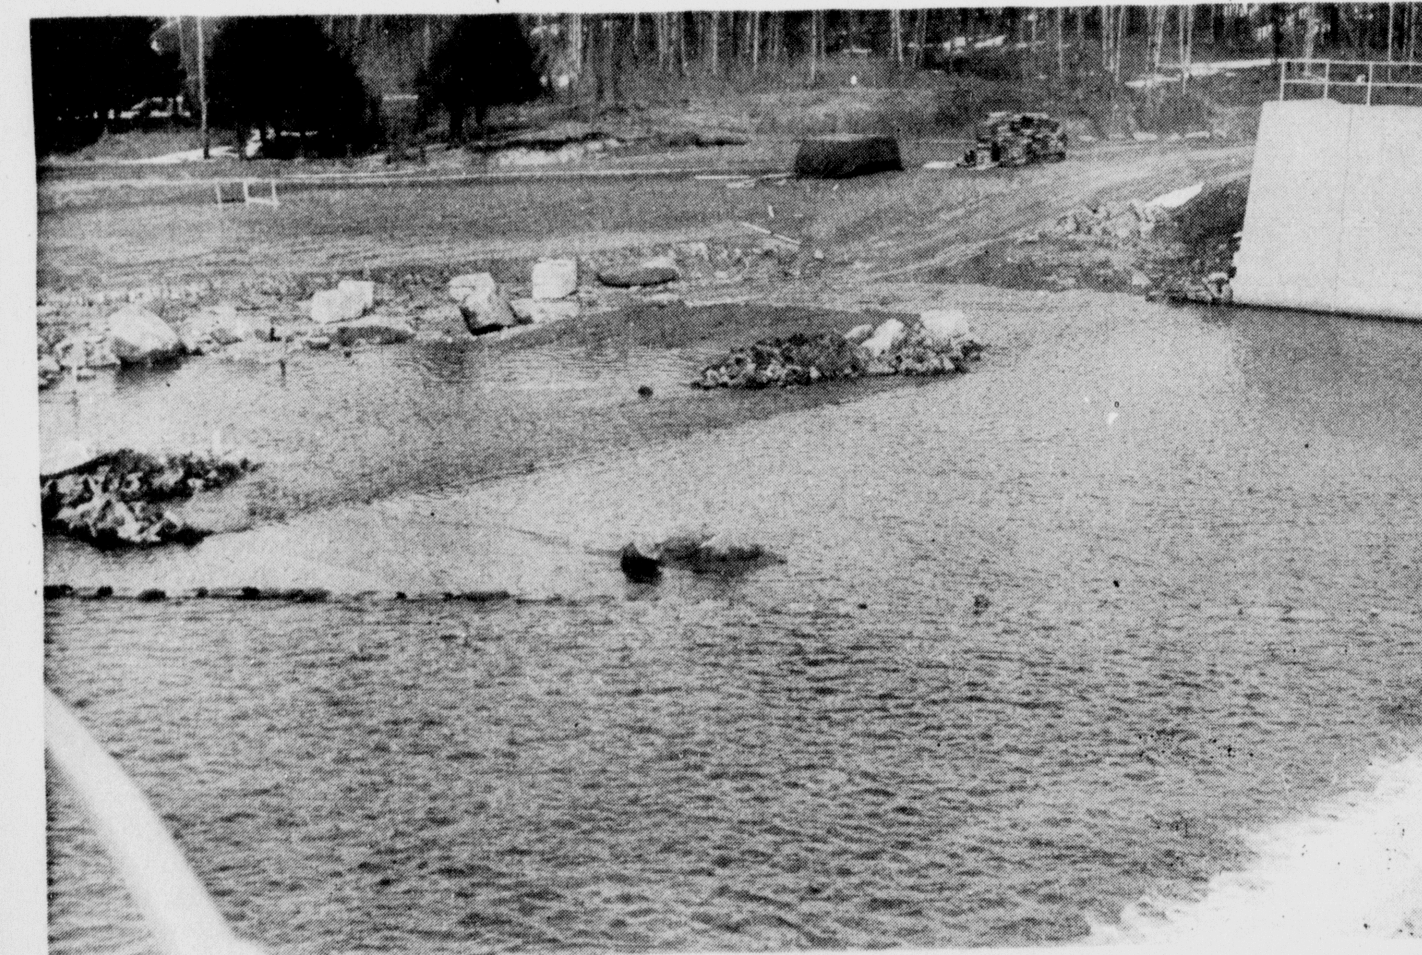

Among those present for the occasion were (l. to r.) front--Merle See, president county volunteer firemen; son Randy, Mrs. Rowland and superintendent Robert Rowland; back--commissioners L. L. Johnson, Blain Mead and Lewis Crippen.

A TOTAL LOSS. A barn on the David Johnson Farm, Swede Hill rd. in R. D. 2, Akeley, was burned to the ground last Wednesday after fire broke out about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The blaze was discovered by 11-year-old David, Jr., who was on his way to feed the cattle. The youngster herded 12 head from the burning structure himself and the remaining dozen or so were removed with help from Keith Lundmark and the Russell Volunteer Firemen. No machinery was lost. A water pond on Mr. Johnson's land was used to supply water for several hours as firefighters battled the flames.

WITH THIS SCENE of one of several grass fires that have broken out in the area the last week, we run the following release:
These dry windy days bring forth many hours of lost time to county firemen and create a threat to forest lands if measures to avoid brush and field fires are not taken. Very simple precautions to avoid any such nuisance are as follows:
1. Notify the local Fire Company personnel of your intention to burn, or consult the Local Forest Fire Warden.
2. Burn brush in small piles and watch it. Have water, tools, and help on hand. Keep fire away from dry leaves or grass. Finish burning before 11:00 a.m. and start AFTER 4:00 p.m. Higher humidity and less wind in morning and late afternoon reduce fire danger.
3. Grass and field burning is a wasteful practice, eventually creating soil sterility but if desired take these precautions: a. Burn early or late in day; b. Never burn in high wind and burn against wind; c. Always plow a double furrow around area to be burned, especially between woodland and burn; d. Have enough help to control the fire at its largest size -- one man and tools for every 50 feet of fire. The Department of Forests and Waters is using plane detection on days of medium to high fire danger -- any fires that are not properly controlled will be reported for preventative action.
The desire of protection officials is to have this burning nuisance voluntarily stopped at its source -- to avoid undue expense and abuse of equipment designed primarily to protect structures, and reduce threat of fire damage to property and forests.

THE CROSSING at the base of the spillway at Chapman Dam will be much more adequate when construction is completed.

SYMINGTON IN 1960?

By Doris Fleeason

ST. LOUIS, MO. -- In Senator Stuart Symington Missouri Democrats have an attractive entry in the landslide sweepstakes this fall. His and their immediate goal is a dazzling majority to put beside the ones hoped for by a large list of Democratic Governors and Senators.

Former President Truman has made encouraging noises about Symington-for-President. He assured a fund-raising dinner here last November that "greater things" were in store for Missouri's fine Senator.

There is some reason to believe that Truman may have been only trying to loosen some purse strings for the Symington campaign. For that purpose, no better technique exists than to set White House visions dancing in the heads of the fat cats.

It is true that Truman intends to name his next choice for the Presidency much earlier in the game than he did in 1952 and 1956. In those years he lined up what he now feels was too little and too late fashion for two losers, the late Alben Barkley and Gov. Harri-man of New York. He hopes next time to play a large role in the convention decision and he has been encouraged to do so by the tremendously warm welcome he gets everywhere he goes and the incessant demands for speeches by him.

The former President also expects as of now that a managed compromise will emerge from the convention. He foresees no formidable front runner and no sectional struggle.

In mellow moments he has been heard to speculate about a flood of favorite son nominations and then a unanimous vote for the ticket that party leaders agree has the best chance to win. Since he is speaking of Democrats, this seems far too optimistic. But if he is correct, then Symington's chances should not be discounted.

Symington is a Midwest Senator with Southern ancestors galore. While his Senate votes reflect farm discontent and the liberal cast of the big cities -- St. Louis, Baltimore, New York -- where he has lived and achieved business success, the inflection of his voice is soothing to the South.

He has perhaps the best record on military preparedness in the Congress, his Cassandra-type forebodings about the Russians having been proved all too true. The cast of his thinking was set, of course, during his years as the first Air Force Secretary.

Envious politicians describe his family in an illuminating phrase as "the charm school."

Missouri is now strongly held by the Democrats, with Republicans mired in a factionalism which seems more a matter of personal conflicts than ideologies. The GOP has had to hunt for a candidate to oppose Symington. In an effort to help out, Sherman Adams put White House pressure on Dewey Short, a veteran Ozark spellbinder defeated for re-election to the House in 1956 and now an Assistant Secretary of Defense.

Short's reply: "I am not going to put my head on that chopping block."

A woman, Miss Hazel Palmer, of Sedalia, has refused to be daunted. She has pledged a hard and thorough campaign to win the Republican Senate nomination and she has already fired off a demand on Symington to tell where he stands on the equal rights amendment.

He is not quite so amused as he pretends. All the moonlight and magnolias of his Southern background peer through his discussion of the possibility that he may have to run against a woman.

Miss Palmer is a successful lawyer and former national president of the Business and Professional Woman's Club. She has long been active in GOP politics.

OUR INCOME TAX SIEVE:

"TAX HAVEN" COUNTRIES SAVE MILLIONS FOR BIG COMPANIESBy Jack Steele
Scripps-Howard Staff Writer

WASHINGTON. -- Early in 1956 a prominent American resident of Cuba was arrested as he stepped off a plane in Miami for a visit to his homeland.

A lawyer and businessman, this man had lived in Cuba for 25 years. His extensive interests there included a profitable manganese mine.

But he had been named several months earlier in a sealed indictment charging him with evading nearly $500,000 in U. S. income taxes from 1949 through 1952.

He later pleaded no defense to charges of wilfully failing to file tax returns for two of these years. He was fined $5,000 and a six-months jail sentence was suspended on condition that he settle up his tax deficiencies.

As a result of the publicity given his case, hundreds of other Americans living in Cuba and the Caribbean islands began paying up.

This case exemplifies only one of the many income tax problems which arise from the half-million Americans living and working abroad, and from American companies operating overseas.

Americans who are "bona fide" residents of foreign countries do not have to pay U. S. taxes on their EARNED income abroad. But they are supposed to pay U. S. taxes on their unearned income from investments and other sources.

Americans who live abroad temporarily -- but for at least 17 months out of 18 -- get a special tax exemption for the first $20,000 of their earned income.

The latter gimmick was lobbied into the Revenue Code by construction firms which hire many Americans to work overseas. The tax exemption saved them from paying higher wages and salaries for such work.

Initially no limit was placed on the tax-free earned income of Americans who work overseas temporarily. But Gene Kelly and other movie stars found this loophole and hurriedly moved abroad to take advantage of it. So Congress voted the $20,000 limit.

Tax laws which give special breaks to American companies operating overseas, or to their foreign subsidiaries, are more complicated -- and just as full of loopholes.

Many were pushed through Congress to encourage American investment abroad, particularly in under-developed countries. But other American taxpayers -- often unwittingly -- pay the bill. They have to make up for the lost taxes.

One of these loopholes makes it possible for Americans to set up companies in so-called "tax haven" countries which assess little or no taxes against firms which do business elsewhere.

Profits these companies make from international trade or business are not taxed either by the U. S. or by the "tax haven" countries in which they are incorporated.

Such a company can use its tax-free profits to expand rapidly. Or it can simply accumulate its profits without being subject to penalty taxes which apply in the U. S.

If the profits eventually are brought back to the U. S., they become subject to individual or corporate income taxes.

But if the company is liquidated or sold -- and many fly-by-night outfits are set up for this purpose -- the profits are taxed only at low capital gains rates.

Panama, the Bahamas, Liberia and Liechtenstein are favorite "tax haven" countries. Recently the Solomon Islands have joined their ranks.

Companies which use this loophole often are purely tax-avoidance dummies. All their business is transacted in the U. S. Their foreign "office" consists of a few papers filed away in the drawer of some lawyer in Panama City or Nassau.

Hundreds of such companies have been set up in recent years. No one knows exactly how many there are, or how much tax avoidance they make possible.

The Treasury recently threatened a crackdown. But it hasn't even been able to enforce a law requiring lawyers and accountants who help organize such corporations to report to the government.

Canada provides another type of foreign "tax haven" for U. S. investors -- through a device known as the Canadian investment fund.

If 95 percent of the shares in such a fund are owned by Americans, Canada taxes its earnings only 15 percent instead of the normal 45 percent rate.

These Canadian investment funds pay no dividends. Their earnings, which are taxed at such a low rate by Canada, are plowed back into new investments.

The American who invests in these Canadian funds pays no U. S. income tax on these accumulated earnings. But they increase the value of his shares in the fund. When he sells the shares, his profit is taxed only at low capital gains rates.

Such conversion of ordinary income to capital gains is prohibited by U. S. investment funds. But thousands of American investors are doing the same thing in scores of Canadian funds.

Proposals for closing this loophole were discussed last year by the Treasury and House Ways and Means Committee, but they failed to agree on any solution.

Other problems have been caused by the credit against U. S. taxes given to American companies for the taxes they pay abroad.

Without some such credit, American companies might have to pay double taxes and be put at a competitive disadvantage.

But this provision has invited foreign countries to set their tax rates close to U. S. rates so they get all the taxes paid by American companies which operate in their countries.

And it has produced some weird results. Take the case of the Arabian-American Oil Co. (Aramco), which Congress recently investigated.

When Aramco first was granted its oil concession in Saudi Arabia, the agreement called for paying royalties but no taxes to the Saudis. But when King Saud demanded more oil income several years ago, the pact was amended so that the increase was paid by Aramco in the form of taxes instead of higher royalties.

Aramco then was able to credit this Saudi tax against its U. S. taxes. As a result of this credit and its depletion allowance, Aramco now pays no U. S. income taxes.

Similarly the Creole Oil Co. (a Standard of New Jersey affiliate) pays no U. S. taxes on its highly profitable operations in Venezuela. With the help of its depletion allowance and the 14-point tax credit for Western Hemisphere corporations, Creole's credit for the taxes it pays to Venezuela wipes out its U. S. taxes.

Venezuela, incidentally, last year set up its own foreign aid program for other Latin-American countries. But U. S. taxpayers, as a result of the tax credit given to Creole, are helping finance it.

And a new use for the tax credit gimmick has now been proposed by the Eisenhower Administration.

Some foreign countries want to give U. S. companies tax concessions to attract businesses or industries. But under the tax credit system, such tax concessions merely would increase the U. S. taxes these companies have to pay.

To solve this problem former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey came up with a new idea to give U. S. tax credits for taxes NOT paid abroad.

His plan was first incorporated in a proposed tax treaty with Pakistan. It provides that a tax concession granted by Pakistan to a U. S. company still could be credited by the company against its U. S. taxes.

The Pakistan treaty sailed through the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last year, but was called back for reconsideration.

It dawned on some Senators that this treaty would get a precedent under which Mexico, Cuba and other countries would demand similar treatment. This would open the way for draining off many millions in

EASTER SEASON EVENTS

Many programs will be devoting some time and activity to observance of the Easter season and many special shows have been scheduled. Good Friday programs will be presented on both CBS-TV and NBC-TV on Friday. Consult your TV schedule for time and channel. NBC Radio will broadcast sunrise services Easter morning from Radio City Music Hall and Arlington National Cemetery, beginning at 7 a. m. Another radio program, this one featuring the music of Easter through the ages, "A Song of Gladness", will be broadcast by NBC Radio on Easter Sunday from 12:30 to 1 p. m. Two French films bolstered the NBC-TV Easter observances this year. Last Sunday "Holy Week" was telecast and on Easter Sunday the film will be "The Easter Vigil", depicting highlights of the Easter vigil liturgy, the ceremony preceding the Midnight Mass. It will be seen on NBC-TV channels from 12 noon to 12:30. Easter Sunday Episcopal services from Christ Church in Cincinnati, Ohio, will be televised from 11 a. m. to noon on Easter Sunday on NBC-TV channels. "This Prisoner Barabbas", a full-hour long drama, will be presented on "Frontiers of Faith" (NBC-TV) at 1-2 p. m. Sunday.  TV IN SCHOOLS Forty-nine schools in eastern Massachusetts in the Boston area are televising classroom sessions in science this year. This represents one of the major efforts being made educationally via television. About 21,000 sixth graders are taught the course in General Science through classroom television. A more expanded curriculum will be offered next fall, to include the social studies, music, art, drama, literature and citizenship. The effort is being supported by the Greater Boston colleges and universities and other cultural organizations.  ABC RADIO AILING The American Broadcasting Company radio network, currently undergoing re-organization, will curtail its entertainment programs at the end of this week. The change is being made in an effort to reduce losses that have amounted to more than two million dollars annually.  COMING & GOING THE $64,000 CHALLENGE may be dropped by its sponsors at the end of this summer, 'tis said. TELEPHONE TIME, on the ABC-TV network, terminated this week. Bell Telephone, sponsors, are focusing attention on a new series to feature music of various types. All three networks have received a chance to bid on the proposed program. VOICE OF FIRESTONE, ABC-TV, will present Roberta Peters in an aria from Lucia di Lammermoor on Monday, April 14. PHIL SILVERS will star in a special hour-long live comedy show on CBS-TV on May 13. LAND OF GREEN GINGER, the next Shirley Temple show, will be seen April 18 from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. on NBC-TV. TURNING POINT, a new NBC-TV program, stars Joan Crawford in "Road to Edinburgh" on April 12, 9:30-10 p. m.  DIAL SPINNERS BOB HOPE SHOW, the Moscow one, will be seen this Friday p. m. from 9-10, on NBC-TV. UB ROUNDTABLE, Channel 4 at 7 p. m. Saturday, will discuss "Destination Moon". SHROUD OF TURIN, a special Good Friday program, will be seen on WGR-TV at 4:30-5 p. m. April 4. The "Shroud of Turin" is believed to carry the photographic image of the body of Christ. NO WARNING! premieres Sunday at 7:30 p. m. on NBC-TV. "Emergency" is the premiere episode. "SWING INTO SPRING" with Benny Goodman in a special musical reunion on NBC-TV Wednesday, April 9, from 9-10 p. m. COSI FAN TUTTE, (Women Are Like That), will be the NBC Opera Company production scheduled for Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. The Mozart comedy opera will be in English. OMNIBUS will present Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning" on NBC-TV Sunday afternoon at 4-5:30. A CASE OF FEAR, a story from the files of the American Cancer Society, will be presented on NBC Matinee Theatre Thursday, April 10, at 3 p. m. OUTLOOK, NBC-TV at 6:30 Sunday, will tell the story of Chicago's "hillbillies", farm folk who face many problems in the big city. 20TH CENTURY presents "Victory Over Polio" at 6:30 p. m. Sunday on CBS-TV.  SPORTS EVENTS BOXING - The Philadelphia Arena will be the scene of a third-time meeting of a couple of veteran fighters, Ralph "Tiger" Jones, middleweight from Yonkers, N. Y., and former welterweight champion, Kid Gavilan, of Cuba. The 10-round bout will be seen and heard Friday night on NBC-TV and Radio on the Gillette Cavalcade of Sports show. BASEBALL - NBC's 26-week "Game of the Week" series begins Saturday with an exhibition game at 2:30 between World Series champions Milwaukee Braves and the Los Angeles Dodgers. "Baseball Game of the Week", the CBS-TV series, premieres with an opener between the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Phillies, from Jacksonville, Fla. Game time will be 1:45 p. m. Saturday on the CBS network. SPECIAL! The Masters Golf Tournament, one of the world's most celebrated golf events, will be broadcast and televised by CBS direct from the Augusta National Golf Club in Georgia on April 5 and 6. CBS-TV will carry the event Saturday from 5 to 6 p. m., and CBS Radio will broadcast portions Sunday at 2:05 to 2:30 and from 5:30 to 5:55 p. m. More than 100 of the nation's great golfers, including many former champions, will participate in the event. BASKETBALL SEASON - NBC-TV's professional basketball "Game of the Week" telecasts will be presented on Sunday afternoons during the 1958-59 season, it has been announced by the NBA president and NBC sports director. The schedule will start November 9 and continue through March. In the four previous years, the "Game of the Week" series has been presented on Saturday afternoons.

- a symbol of faith in the reality & triumph of the spiritual world.

It is a profound thing which was written by Bernard Shaw to the Archbishop of Canterbury: "I rate a man, or a church, not by the reasons they give for things, but by the things for which they give reasons." Our faith . . . is in the experiences for which we give reasons.

The experience of Easter comes first . . . The experience is the response to the tremendous affirmation that Christ has brought life and immortality to light.

— from: The Christian Century

Why art thou come? We had grown used to doom. Eyeless, we groped our way through well worn gloom.

But thou, a searing light, hast burned our door, Disclosed the limits of our funeral caves. Now death is darker than it was before; The soul is weakened and in fever raves. Angered the heart, when thou didst show thy face, But, oh, bereft since thou hast left this place. And, yet, out of the kingdom of this wrath, Since thou hast come, and gone, there is a path....

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

IT SEEMS LIKE NEW TIMES

A chill wind blew over CBS-TV's morning program structure Monday, a reflection of the soft economy, and Arthur Godfrey emerged, abbreviated and (if there is such a word) singlecast. Simulcasts (the use of the radio and TV network together) are just too darned expensive for the advertiser anymore. Consequently, you'll find Godfrey on for an hour on radio without television, followed by a half-hour of televised Godfrey without radio.

In front of his TV program, you'll find a new parlor game and after it you'll find another one. And that is the shape of things to come, God help us. Godfrey cut to the bone and parlor games all over the place. The new half-hour Godfrey show is broadcast from what he calls the same old "basement," but a ramp has been added to the theater and the cameras move around, something they could never do before. Godfrey moves around, too, something HE never did before -- sometimes sitting at his desk, sometimes in front of his band, sometimes with his crew members.

Well, it may not sound like much but to those of us who have followed the Godfrey career through thick and thin, this is revolution. Or maybe just recession. Among other changes, that old theme song "It Seems Like Old Times" has quietly gone overboard and Godfrey has substituted a song he wrote himself some thirty years ago called "Pale Potomac Moon." Godfrey confessed that he had read to his astonishment that CBS had paid $350,000 to the authors of "Seems Like Old Times" in the decade or so he has used it as a theme song and decided to get some of that loot himself.

The new Godfrey show opened with Godfrey walking right at the camera and dropping one sleeve of his coat like a burlesque queen. "We have a ramp just like Hoboken," he announced, "in case you fellows just tuned in." Then suddenly he recollected that things had changed. "And I guess you did. We just went on the air."

After years and years of an hour-long show, the half-hour show should seem like hardly enough but actually it seemed thin and insubstantial. You expect a guy to take it easy with an hour to play around in but with only half-an-hour, you somehow figure he should get right at it, forgetting that there isn't much to get at on the Godfrey show. There haven't been any writers on the show for years now, so Godfrey pretty much makes it up as he goes along.

There are some songs from the Talent Scout winners and from the regulars and there are the commercials which are still awfully good. But there is precious little else and somehow you're more conscious of it with a short show than with a long one. "How long before the butterflies get out of your stomach?" asked a Talent Scout winner.

"I think I'll lose 'em next year," answered Godfrey. "Next year I'll be thirty years in this business."

Even after thirty years, Godfrey is still shaking up the show to keep abreast. Ahead of him and behind him now on TV are what he calls "crap games" -- gimmick shows which give away money after some sort of parlor game or other. And opposite him on NBC is "The Price Is Right," another one and a powerhouse. Godfrey himself has got into the act enough to tell the people to write for anything "reasonable." So far something like 560,000 letters have poured in asking for something "reasonable" and Godfrey had to tell the folks to please write to a P. O. box because the deluge was choking the CBS mailbox to such a degree the network could barely get its business done.

I must admit that the gimmick shows preceding and following Godfrey are pretty good ones as gimmick shows go. Just ahead of him is "How Do You Rate" which is nothing more nor less than an aptitude test with many of the same things on it found in psychology tests in the armed services and in industry. But the trend toward turning all of TV into one big parlor game is thoroughly alarming. It's also the best argument for pay-TV that has come along so far.

We had succeeded in prolonging her life by many months. But that's not enough! Cancer ranks today as the Number 1 disease-killer of children. We can . . . we must . . . find ways to battle it, and win over it.

The Style Shop ran out of gas in the final period and was eliminated in the quarter finals of the Jamestown YMCA Centennial Basketball tournament by Harry's Lunch, the defending champions, 96 to 89, last Tuesday night.

The Stylers gained their quarter final berth by dumping Sandy's Richfield quintet, 61 to 42, on Saturday night.

In Tuesday's game, the Style Shop led, 49 to 47, at halftime and, 80 to 74, at the end of three periods. But the running game of the defending champions wore down the seven-man Warren squad in the final quarter and they scored only nine points while the winners were scoring 22.

John Berdine, scoreless until the fourth quarter, scored all nine Style Shop points in that period.

High for the Style Shop were Jack Karkosky with 18 and Dick Wasson and Ed Lindberg with 16.

In Saturday's game, the Warren five caught fire in the second quarter and came from behind early in that period to go ahead of Sandy's for good and win the game going away.

P.I.A.A. PLAYOFFS

Three schoolboy basketball champions, Haverford, Wampum, and Williamsburg, were crowned last week end to bring the 1957-58 scholastic basketball season to a close in Pennsylvania.

CLASS A -- Haverford, Section 1, easily handled Altoona, Section 6, bouncing them 67 to 45 to pick up their first P.I.A.A. Class A state basketball championship on Saturday night.

The champions used a press to upset the Altoona attack, jumped off to a quick 10 to 0 lead and were never in trouble. Haverford hit on 46% of their shots from the floor while Altoona could connect on only 27% of their tries.

The 67 points scored by Haverford set a new team scoring record in the championship game, bettering the 66 scored by Allentown in 1951.

Don George of Haverford hit on 12 field goals to equal a record set by Julius McCoy, Farrell, in 1954.

CLASS B -- Wampum, Section 7, dumped Columbia, Section 3, 82 to 64, to annex the Class B state crown for the second time in recent years. The champs blocked out the taller Columbia team and completely controlled the boards in the first half to roll to a 44 to 25 halftime advantage.

In the second half, Columbia outscored Wampum by one point.

CLASS C -- Williamsburg, Section 6, won its first Class C state basketball championship in three straight tries by downing Jenkintown, Section 1, 49 to 45, last Friday night.

The score was tied six different times in the initial period but early in the second quarter, Williamsburg moved ahead, 14 to 12, and retained the lead to win the crown.

BOWLING

BOWLER LEADS TOURNAMENT

A Warren bowler, just learning how to bowl this season, has taken the lead in two events of a national K. of C. bowling tournament which has three more weeks to run, resuming Saturday, April 12.

Joe Gerarde tossed a 749 high single with handicap and 1990 in the all events with handicap to take over first place in those events in a K. of C. national tourney, eastern division, in Buffalo last week end.

Other Warren K. of C. rollers placing in the tournament were Jim Zock, 1938, second place and John Clark, 1918, tie for eighth place in all events with handicap; Paul Coppola and Frank Gerardi, 1179, second in two-man actual.

Ralph Pasquino and Frank Files, 1294, sixth place; Fred Aumer and Eugene Manfrey, 1290, seventh place and Al Chiamonte and John Clark, 1264, eleventh place in two-man handicap.

Holy Cross, 2650, third place in five-man actual and St. Francis, 3025, tie for fourth place, five-man handicap.

The scoring was the best Warren keggers have recorded in recent K. of C. tournaments and there is a strong possibility that at least half of these results will remain on the board for the duration of the tournament.

PLACES IN ABC TOURNAMENT

Norm Wooster of Warren rolled into first place in the All-Events divisions of the American Bowling Congress championship tournament in Syracuse last Sunday and Monday. But on Tuesday, Wooster was bumped into second place by a Canandaigua, N.Y., bowler.

Wooster rolled 598 in the team event with the Penn Laurel team, 634 in the doubles and 609 in the singles to place his total of 1841 in first place on the board in All-Events.

But on Tuesday, Samuel Walker, Jr., of Canandaigua, N.Y., checked in with 1910 to replace the Warren bowler as the all-events leader.

Other leaders in the national tournament are Jack Blevins, Maccomb, Ill., with a 683 in singles and Walker and Robert Schaeffer, Canandaigua, N.Y., with 1267 in doubles.

Two Mt. Jewett keggers, Carl Wimar and Russ Olson, hold down third spot in the doubles with 1255.

MEN AT PENN

Snuffy Stephens put together games of 201, 214 and 202 for a 617 in the Industrial. Dave Fink rolled 608 in the Commercial, and Virg Erickson recorded 607 and Bill Schaeffer notched 601 in the Junior Industrial. Spinner Johnson paced the Merchants with 574.

ARCADE SPLINTERS

Myer Pappalardo topped the K. of C. National with 607 and Fred Aumer paced the K. of C. American with 572. Al Platt was high in the Shop with 495 and Bill Hah led the Sylvania with 494.

MIXED ACTION

Myron Rapp with 524 and Phyl Rieder with 463 led the Friday night mixed loop.

JUNIOR KEGLERS

Fred Henry rolled 611 in the Penn Junior and Denny Strandburg topped the Arcade Junior with 463.

Rose Juliano topped the pins in the Ladies Major for 250 and 613 to highlight action among the women keggers during the past week. Arlene Harriger rolled 507 and Helen Peters hit 510 in the Ladies Major.

Vi Sterling paced the Ladies City with 518, Marie Heald paced the Ladies Class C with 467, and Janet Mellander recorded 453 in Peg's. Jennie Anderson's 447 topped the Ladies Minor and Dorris Worley was high in the Cosmetologists with 403.

NUMMY MAKES IT

Nummy Wooster, one of Warren's top bowlers for many years, earned national attention last week end when he helped open the ABC tournament in Syracuse by leading the country's keggers with an all events total of 1841.

Nummy splattered the pins for 598 in the team event, 634 in the doubles, and 609 in the singles.

Nummy showed consistent form such as he did back in the days when he averaged 200 and better in Inter-City league competition with the Koch Beers.

The score is expected to be worth eighty or ninety dollars to Nummy judging by past years. However, scoring will be high this spring because of the current competition between Brunswick and AMF. They are alternating in the ABC with their automatics and equipment. Each wants to outdo the other and works at providing high scoring conditions. AMF alleys and equipment were used last year. Now it is Brunswick's turn.

NEW RECORD

High three-game series of the season now reads 836, compiled with games of 257, 300, and 279. Earl Zahn, of the Greater Milwaukee All-Star league was the spiller, replacing Ray Bluth's 834.

HITS FIRST 600 -- Rose Juliano, with a high single of 250, checked in with a torrid 613 in the Ladies Major league last night. It was the first 600 series of her bowling career.

The 613 set a new high series record and the 250 single is a new high for the Ladies Major league. Ann's Beauty Shop recorded 925, a new high team game in the league.

The CAP functions as an air unit of Civil Defense and will be prepared to meet all emergencies having to do with aviation. Their program also consists of recruiting and training CAP cadets. The latter program will start in the near future.

EXT SUMMER

This area is fortunate in having a series of programs which include operas, drama, art, leading speakers, schooling in many subjects, and a variety of musical presentations. All of this and more can be found at Chautauqua, a short and beautiful drive from any point in Warren county.

High point of the opera season at assembly grounds this year will be the first Chautauqua presentation of "Susannah", a musical drama by the American composer-author Carlisle Floyd. It is a modern version of the Biblical story of Susannah and the Elders, and is being presented at the Brussels World's Fair in June by the New York Opera Company, with Julius Rudel directing.

Mr. Rudel also is the newly appointed musical director of the Chautauqua Opera Association for this summer. The Company's other operas for the season are "Don Giovanni", July 11 and 14; "Faust", July 25 and 28; "Samson and Delilah", August 1 and 4; "Tosca", August 8 and 11; "The Mikado", August 15 and 18. "Susannah" will be seen July 18 and 21.

An opening event for Chautauqua will be its first nationwide art competition with prizes totalling $2,000, and first prize worth $500. It is open to all artists residing in the United States, and includes works in oil, watercolor, casein and pastel.

Paintings accepted by a three-man jury, and the prize-winning pictures, will be shown as the Chautauqua Exhibition of American Arts in the galleries of the Chautauqua Art Association from June 30 to July 17. The jurors are Jonathan Marshall, editor and publisher of Arts magazine; Robert E. Blair, whose works can be seen in the Metropolitan Museum of Art and other leading collections, and Otto Wittmann, Jr., associate director of the Toledo Museum of Art.

The pianists and those who enjoy piano music will have a good year at Chautauqua. Ozan March, young Californian who is a student of Egon Petri and Emil Sauer, will be chairman of the piano department. The music school offers collegiate credit for applied music study in piano, violin, voice, and orchestra.

Mr. Marsh has been resident pianist and professor of music for numerous schools and now is concert pianist in residence and professor of music at Lindenwood College for Women. He is assisted by his wife, Patricia Benkman, who also is a distinguished pianist.

Lorene McClintock, originator of the McClintock piano method, again will conduct courses in her unique piano instruction system for adult beginners. Her courses will be a part of the adult education division.

Giving the piano even greater emphasis will be the solo appearance of Frank Glazer, pianist, who will be heard with the Chautauqua Symphony orchestra. He will appear August 5 and 9.

Those who would like to fully appreciate poetry will find a place for them at Chautauqua. Donald Hall, professor of English at the U. of Michigan and a co-editor of "New Poets of England and America", recently published, will teach poetry in the writers' workshop. This popular workshop will be operating for its twelfth season.

MET VOICES IN PITT

Several guest soloists from the Metropolitan opera will sing with the Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra April 11 and 13 when a program of All-Wagner music will be heard. Music to be played and sung will be from "Tristan and Isolde", "Tannhauser", and "Die Walkure". Singing will be Margaret Harshaw, Ramon Vinay, Otto Edelmann, Julia Lerner, and John Wabrick.

TRUE WESTERN

In this day of appetite for western drama, proof of which is the popularity of such programs on tv where some are eating holes into the ratings of such performers as Sullivan, we believe that many of us would enjoy books or stories written by those "who were there". Such a book is "Owen Wister Out West".

Owen Wister wrote "The Virginian", a book that stands at the top with novels of our western life. There has been so much written since the time of this book that today it might read like just another cowboy tale, but it was one of the first, and more important, was written by a man of letters who traveled the western plains and mountains.

"Owen Wister Out West" is a collection of his journals sent to his mother who disapproved of his adventurous trips and living. These journals have been edited by his daughter, Fanny Kemble Wister, and are described as telling an interesting story of the real west in a plain, clear style, easily digested by most readers, and much like the writer he admired, Ernest Hemmingway. The book is 269 pages short, has illustrations and photographs, and costs five dollars.

PLAY PERIODS . . . Those who are baseball minded should have read the last two issues of Sports Illustrated. Excellent pitching and batting information was provided by leading players, accompanied by descriptive art work . . . The too long period of repeats already starts on television. Six months of such fare will lose many customers, one of whom herewith speaks his mind . . . Church bowling leagues in America account for 204,652 keggers. Mixed leagues are composed of 581,882 bowlers. The house leagues have 858,990. The other leagues are industrial, business, government, fraternal, veteran, social and civic groups. Totaling 2,244,572 . . . and not counting the ladies.

OUTDOORS

NO PEEPS

It isn't spring until we hear it chorused from the swamplands. What is spring without song, and no sweeter song is there to the outdoorsman than the a cappella of the peepers, jugarums, and a scattering of other night voices filling in. What a peeper is has been a subject over which vitriolic words have been exchanged in leading papers and magazines, but many of the experts of our day believe the massive cry which comes from many voices is the work of a tiny frog. This bit of a songster is seldom more than an inch and a half long, and many times is much shorter than an inch. He has a rather vague cross on his back. Those who peer into the waters of the fields and swamps searching for him are apt to find most anything from lizards to fish, but they are wasting their batteries if they look for him in the usual position of a frog. Lift your eyes from the water's surface and search the shoots and narrow leaves. On them you may observe our little crooner. When he sings he creates a bulb under his chin that suggests he is about to rise into space or burst into a shower of skin fragments. This is not a tree toad. The toad does not give us such a chorus. His voice is different and his contribution to the evening's symphony is apt to come much later in the warm season. There also are some who claim they have observed a small lizard singing in the marshes, but we suspect that in the dark, and perhaps with the limitations of a carbide light they mistook our tiny frog for another species. But the woods and fields, and the water areas which nourish them, have many mysteries, of which numerous ones still are not completely solved. If anyone can place a lizard before us and produce a jubilant announcement that the time of mild evenings is with us, we'll shake his clammy little foot and welcome him to the peeper clan.

TEN BEARS

Warren and Forest county hunters brought in ten bruins in each of these areas, which is well above the average, but far short of the leaders. We believe Lycoming and Little Cameron topped all of them with 34 bears shot.

Next was Clinton with 29, Elk with 21, and Pike with 18. Centre shot 15, Monroe, 13, and Tioga, 12.

The kill in some of our neighboring counties was not very high. One bear was downed in Venango, seven in McKean, and eight in Potter. Erie and Crawford counties reported no bruins.

These figures no doubt are a bit short of the facts. They are the reported figures and any game warden usually can tell you a total that is larger, based on their road counts. But it gives you the proportional averages.

DEER BY COUNTIES

Warren county accounted for 1428 bucks and 2861 antlerless animals during the deer season. Little Forest county shot 1387 bucks and 3094 of the others. McKean brought in 1749 and 3135.

I believe the McKean and Forest antlerless kills rated first and second in the state.

Potter probably led the buck kill with 2514, but Warren was topped only by McKean, Elk (1658), Wayne (1480), Lycoming (1849), Centre, (1840).
